ACS MEMBERSHIP BULLETIN

No. 59 – 18 January 2026

The eleventh General Committee meeting of 2025/26 took place on Saturday 13 December on a virtual basis. The Committee carried out its usual quarterly review of finance, communications and membership. It heard details of a solid financial performance during the financial year to 30 November which meant that the Association remained in a healthy position. Investments had performed well and book sales were up. On communications, the committee discussed the successful use of certain social media platforms, which were generating good levels of engagement, as well as the recently introduced changes to communicating with members on a regular basis via Membership and Sales Bulletins. The committee also examined recent trends in membership levels. Preparation for the 2026 AGM in March was also discussed. The committee was provided with updates on work to improve women's cricket records and to digitise a variety of research material, including the Tony Webb archive, which is appearing on the ACS website almost daily.
